

How to make Potato Heads

You will need:

Grass seed

Sawdust

Old pair of tights or ppsock

Plant pot and saucer

Googly eyes, elastic bands, string etc

1. Put the grass seed in the toe part of the tights.
2. Add the saw dust....enough to make a good size ball.
3. Ensure the sawdust is compact and then put a knot in the tights to ensure the shape is maintained and prevents the sawdust from falling out.
4. Shape the head and spread the grass seed around the back and sides to ensure you will develop a good head of hair when it grows.
5. Form the nose by pulling a small of saw dust and use the elastic band to maintain the shape.
6. Stick the two eyes in place.
7. Use the string for the mouth and glue this in place.
8. Place the potato head in the flower pot. If necessary place scrunched paper in the pot to stop the head from slipping too far down into the pot.
9. Water thoroughly.
10. Place the flower pot on a saucer/ plate to stop the water draining on your table.
11. Place in a warm position and keep the grass seed moist.
12. Grass / hair will grow usually within a week.
13. When the grass is long enough why not give your potato head a designer hair cut.
14. Have fun!!
